2022 America's Birthday Parade Returning to the Streets of Downtown St. Louis on Saturday, July 2nd

"Let Freedom Ring" is Theme of 139th Parade

ST. LOUIS (May 20, 2022)—Mark your calendars! America's Birthday Parade, a St. Louis tradition and one of the longest-running parades in the United States, will return to the streets of downtown St. Louis on Saturday, July 2, 2022, at 10:00 a.m. in celebration of America's 246th birthday.

"America's Birthday Parade has been a summer tradition in St. Louis since 1878, and we are thrilled to wow parade goers with an elaborate spectacle of floats, choreographed dances and live performances in a parade down Market Street in the shadow of the iconic Gateway Arch," says Ed Mayuga, spokesperson for America's Birthday Parade. "Whether you attend the parade each year or you've never been, we invite you to join us in saluting our city, our people, our community and our country."

Under the theme "Let Freedom Ring," the 2022 America's Birthday Parade will feature dozens of floats and vehicle entries, countless marching bands, live performances, dances, and more! It will march west, from Fourth and Market Streets at Kiener Plaza to 20th Street.

America's Birthday Parade has been working alongside the City of St. Louis in ensuring this year's parade is once again safe for parade goers and participants. Health and safety policies and protocols for the 2022 America's Birthday Parade will be detailed closer to the parade date.

"We are committed to hosting a parade that is safe for everyone while not limiting the fun of the parade-day experience," says Mayuga.

More details about the parade experience are coming soon, including featured performers, day-of festivities, traffic and parking information, and much more.
